Possible fights for key posts in the House and Senate State Republican majority dimmed yesterday, according to Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe, Stroudsburg, who attended a meeting of GOP representatives last night.

The majority will meet today to select leaders for the 1953 session of the General Assembly without contests, Sen. Crowe said.

Weekend developments indicated there has been no reconciliation between Gov. John S. Fine and Sen. John W. Walker, Allegheny, who split in the 1951 session over the governor's defeated income tax bill.

Walker, who had previously announced he would again be a candidate for the position of majority floor leader in the Senate, said yesterday he was withdrawing his candidacy.

Sen. Crowe indicated last night that there would be "no fight" during the majority caucus and that most of the representatives would vote for the slate "for the sake of party harmony."

Crowe said he expected the meeting at Hershey this afternoon to be a smooth one since most of those attending seem to be in agreement on the one slate of candidates backed by Fine and Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican State chairman.

When the 110-member house majority meets this morning in Harrisburg and the 32 Republican senators convene at 3 p.m. in Hershey, the following selections are indicated:

House speaker, Rep. Charles C. Smith, Philadelphia; majority floor leader, Rep. Albert W. Johnson, McKean; assistant floor leader whip, Rep. Robert F. Kent, Crawford.

Senate-president pro tempore, Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Dauphin; majority floor leader, Rowland B. Mahany, Crawford; assistant floor leader whip, Sen. Fred P. Hare, Somerset.

Mahany has the backing of both Fine and Taylor for the job as floor leader in the house. His election was nearly assured by Walker's withdrawal from the race.

Walker, who fought a fiery battle against the State income tax proposed and backed by Fine in the 1951 session, did not give up his candidacy for the position he held in both the 1949 and 1951 sessions without a blast at the governor.

The governor's objection to his (Walker's) leadership "is endangering the success of my Republican party and is embarrassing many of my friends and colleagues," he said.

Sen. Crowe, while agreeing that most of today's meetings will be conducted in an atmosphere of harmony for the sake of party unity, emphasized that the selections made at these meetings will "not be binding" when the legislative session opens on Tuesday, Jan. 6.

Strickler To Leave Post

Rome (AP) — Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, former lieutenant governor of Pennsylvania, is scheduled to leave command of the U. S. 28th Infantry Division soon for an important assignment in Italy, it was learned last night.

Qualified sources said Strickler will become chief of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group MAAG in Rome. He is to replace Maj. Gen. John K. Rice, who is retiring shortly.

The 28th Division is a Pennsylvania National Guard Division with headquarters at Goeppingen, Germany.

The change already has received Department of the Army approval but has not yet been announced officially, informants said. MAAG functions as a U. S. military mission, aiding the Italian Armed Services in procurement and providing advice and other assistance. It includes Army, Navy and Air Force personnel.

THE FIGHT WAS CANCELLED — State Sen. John M. Walker, Allegheny, had been one of the principal candidates for the position of majority floor leader in the 1953 session of the General Assembly. Walker—"stormy petrel" of the 1951 session when he opposed an income tax bill supported by Fine—withdraw from the race Friday. This leaves Sen. Rowland B. Mahany, Crawford, assured of election to the post, according to Sen. Montgomery F. Crowe of Stroudsburg who based his opinion on observations made yesterday during talks with Republican party members in Harrisburg. Sen. Crowe will attend the caucus of GOP senators at 3 p.m. today in Hershey. No fight is expected on any of the important positions, Crowe indicated.

Three Confess Billion Dollar Sabotage At Czechoslovakia's Trial Of Traitors

Vienna, Austria (AP) — Three defendants in Czechoslovakia's massive treason trial of 14 former Communist leaders confessed yesterday billion-dollar economic sabotage which allegedly slowed the development of the nation's war-oriented industry.

By these confessions, the regime of President Klement Gottwald found scapegoats for Czechoslovakia's failure to meet her promises of war goods to Russia and explained away the country's drastic food shortages and cold homes.

The defendants who accepted the blame for the present economic crisis yesterday were Ludvik Frejka, former head of Czechoslovakia's State Economic Commission; Josef Frank, former deputy secretary general of the Communist party, and Eugen Loeb, one of two former assistant foreign trade ministers on trial. Nine of the defendants now have confessed their guilt in customary Communist fashion. At least one has pleaded to be hanged.

Weeping like a child, another witness, Marie Sveranova, a former deputy secretary of the Czech Communist party, incriminated herself as a traitor when she testified against the 14 defendants.

Once the Czech Communists' most influential woman, her testimony made it obvious she was under arrest and may face trial herself soon.

Choking through her tears, she accepted guilt for payment of 10 million dollars for the purchase of a steel mill in the United States on which the U. S. government had held up delivery.

Among his admissions, Frejka, accepted guilt for payment of 10 million dollars for the purchase of a steel mill in the United States on which the U. S. government had held up delivery.

South of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, Thunderjets dropped blazing jellied gasoline napalm from tree-top level on a Red Troop concentration area.

Pilots claimed more than 20 buildings destroyed. They said big fires engulfed the target area.

Despite adverse weather, five search planes took to the air from Elmendorf today and more than a score stood by. A sea search of the area between Middleton Island and the coast was begun by the Coast Guard from Kodiak.

Meanwhile, other Air Force planes continued their intensive hunting for a C-119 which disappeared Nov. 15 with 20 men aboard on a 250-mile flight from Anchorage to Kodiak. No clue to the Flying Boxcar's fate was found.

The chain of aerial disasters began Nov. 7 when another C-119 carrying 19 men crashed on Mt. Silverthorne between here and Fairbanks.

Exactly a week later a C-119 crashed in Korea, killing 44 men, and the day following a C-46 brought death to 11 men in another Korea crash. On Nov. 17, a C-119 cracked up near Billings, Mont., killing eight of 16 men aboard.

The Globemaster, spaciouse as a five-room house, was bound for Anchorage, but the Air Force refused to say whether this was its final destination or a stopover point.

Carrying Air Force and Army personnel, it left McChord at 3:30 p.m. Saturday.

The flight ordinarily takes seven hours and three minutes, and the plane had enough fuel for 11½ hours of flying.

It carried 41 passengers and a crew of 11. The passengers included a doctor and several air rescue personnel, who had arctic survival equipment and clothing.

The McChord base released the names of these three crew members: Capt. Kenneth J. Duvall, 37, the plane commander, of Vallejo, Calif.; Capt. Alger M. Cheney, 32, first pilot, of Lubec, Me.

Sabre Jets Bag MIG; Lull Hits Ground Battle

By William C. Barnard
Seoul, Monday (AP) — Sabre jets prowling the Northwest Korean gateway on the Manchurian frontier pounced on four Communist MIGs Sunday and claimed one shot down in a marling two-minute battle nearly eight miles high.

It was the seventh straight day of Sabre victories, the Air Force said. The current string was run to 17 MIGs shot down, two probably destroyed and four damaged.

A Sunday lull fell over most of the frigid ground battle line.

However, U. S. Second Division headquarters reported an unusual strafing attack by four jet planes at dusk.

A U. S. Fifth Air Force spokesman said there were no casualties. He said it was "possible" the planes could have been Communist, but "we believe they were F-84 Thunderjets" U. S. fighter bombers.

South of the North Korean capital of Pyongyang, Thunderjets dropped blazing jellied gasoline napalm from tree-top level on a Red Troop concentration area.

Washington (AP) — The United States—grappling with the staggering jobs of war and recovery of the free world—poured out more than $7 billion dollars in foreign aid during the 12 years ended last June 30. That averages over seven billions a year.

But that wasn't all a drain on the U. S. Treasury, because nearly 11 billion dollars was paid back.

Rounding up figures in a detailed report published yesterday, the Commerce Department said the vast military and economic undertaking represents a series of programs unique in economic and political history.

The report, most comprehensive to date, covers the period of World War II as well as postwar years, and thus includes figures on multi-billion dollar aid to Soviet Russia, dubbed by the department "our former ally."

Overall figures show gross foreign aid totalled $82,430,000,000 during the fiscal years 1941-51. An earlier calculation by the Commerce Department showed foreign aid of $5,006,000,000 during the fiscal year which ended last June. The 12-year gross amounts to $87,436,000,000.

It is not the purpose of this report to appraise results, the department said, although it added that "both the war period and postwar programs enacted by Congress achieved major objectives."

As a result of wartime aid, our former ally, the USSR, ranked second with 11 billion dollars, or 8 per cent.

Gough said Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist Chinese on Formosa now have almost 600,000 troops "in wonderful shape" and if they invaded the Communist mainland only 90 miles away, "the people of South China would welcome their liberators with open arms and all-out support."

Gough said indications of such Chinese support have come from intelligence reports and actual raids recently on islands off the South Chinese coast.

Putnam is expected to discuss the situation with presidential assistant John R. Steelman early this week.

Giant Plane Carrying 52 Now Given Up; Presumed To Have Crashed In Alaska

Anchorage, Alaska (AP) — A giant C124 Globemaster, with 52 aboard, was swallowed up in the subarctic night southeast of here Saturday, and was listed officially yesterday as lost and presumed to have crashed.

It was the third U. S. military air disaster in Alaska in 16 days, involving a total of 91 men, and the sixth throughout the world during that period. The six planes carried 354 passengers and crewmen. Eighty-two are known dead, the others missing.

A limited search today, hampered by fog, light rain and low ceiling, turned up no trace of the Globemaster, which vanished on a 1,400-mile flight from McChord Air Force Base, near Tacoma, Wash., to Elmendorf at Anchorage.

The huge, four-engine transport, largest in military use and capable of carrying 200 men, last reported by radio at 9:47 p.m. PST, last night over Middleton Island, about 150 miles southeast of here in the Gulf of Alaska.

The Globemaster, operated by the Military Air Transport Service, was flying at 9,000 feet altitude on schedule six hours and 17 minutes out of McChord and only 46 minutes from Anchorage.

Then there was silence. From tiny Middleton Island, the big plane's course took it over about 50 miles of water and 100 miles of land described by veteran fliers as among "the most rugged in the world."

To the right of its route is a mountain range studded with towering, glacier-covered peaks of 10,000 feet or more. On course and to the left are smaller mountains in an almost impenetrable wilderness.

Despite adverse weather, five search planes took to the air from Elmendorf today and more than a score stood by. A sea search of the area between Middleton Island and the coast was begun by the Coast Guard from Kodiak.

Face Russia All Across West Front

By Tom Masterson
Paris (AP) — The Atlantic powers are building up a bulwark of 130 military air fields across Europe — all within striking distance of Russia, it was learned yesterday.

These airfields will be the West's first line of defense in the event of a Soviet attack on Western Europe.

The fields form a huge arc from the top of Europe to the bottom. Many of them already have been built, an informed source said. The others are nearing completion.

This rampart of air bases starts in Norway and cuts a southward path through Denmark. The line thickens as it passes through Holland, bulges into France, West Germany and Luxembourg, then thins out again as it curves into Italy.

Norway and Denmark are reported to have seven fields apiece built or under construction, the Netherlands 13 and Belgium 14. France is known to have 41, West Germany 35, Little Luxembourg 1, and Italy 12.

A source close to the North Atlantic Council said the equivalent of nearly 800 million dollars was spent on 95 of the airfields in Norway, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, France, Luxembourg and Italy. The cost of the airfields in Germany is not known.

The vest air defense system does not include many other airbases which would be available in England, North Africa, Greece, Turkey and possibly Spain.

This huge investment in airbases indicates the emphasis Western military leaders are putting on air power to stop a Soviet attack.

The Western Powers are aiming at 4,000 warplanes by the end of this year for Europe. With U. S. plane production moving into high gear, squadrons of warplanes are taking over the new European bases as fast as they are completed.

Frankfurt, Germany, (AP) — An American engineer won release from a German jail yesterday and immediately demanded a U. S. court hearing on an investigation of a big Allied defense building program.

Robert N. Harms of Winter Park, Fla., accused the West German government of trying to run his American engineering firm out of business to win more defense contracts for Germans.

He claimed the U. S. Army's Criminal Investigation Division and high ranking officers in the Army's Heidelberg headquarters have been "hoodwinked" into adding the Germans by their "current probe of his company's big defense contracts."

Insisting the case would not be tried fairly in German courts, he asked "for a fair airing of this whole mess" before a U. S. High Commission tribunal.

Harms made these statements at a news conference a few hours after he had been released from a German jail in Kaiserslautern as a result of intervention by U. S. High Commissioner Walter J. Donnelly.

Harms was supposed to have been freed yesterday after posting bail on a charge of smuggling 50,000 marks $11,900 out of Germany. But German federal police took him out the back door of the jail and held him overnight for questioning.

Faces Life In Prison

Williamsport, Pa. (AP) — A 32-year-old Ohio mechanic faces a life prison term for the pistol death of a young baseball fan during a forced automobile ride.

A Leaning County jury returned a verdict of first degree murder late Saturday with the recommendation of life imprisonment against Irwin Paul Goff, Cuyahoga Falls, O.

Goff had pleaded innocent to the fatal shooting of Raymond Smith 19, of Monongahela, Pa., last Aug. 17 while the youth was attending the Pennsylvania State Little League Baseball tournament here.

Staff photographer Rod MacLeod took a dunking to get this picture of the swollen Delaware River rushing past construction work and around a steam crane at the site of the new Delaware Bridge, Delaware Water Gap. The river was about eight feet over normal yesterday, but holding steady or dropping slightly.

Tractor Is Replacing Horses Here

The tractor is replacing the horse and mule as work power on Monroe County farms, according to U. S. Bureau of Census figures.

Of 884 farms, 427 had no horses or mules but used tractors for work power, Florence C. Karcher, district supervisor of the bureau said today. Farm figures are based on data collected in 1950, she added.

A total of 63 had no tractors but had two or more horses or mules; 34 farms reported one horse or mule but no tractors, and 247 farms claimed no tractors, horses or mules.

Workers Are Entitled To SS Benefits

The representative of the Eastern Social Security office will be in Stroudsburg this Wednesday, November 26, rather than Thursday, his usual day. This change, according to Miss Marie T. Miller, manager of the Eastern office, is necessary since Thanksgiving Day, a National holiday, falls on Thursday.

She emphasized that the switch in dates is for this week only, and thereafter the representative will hold office hours on his regular day—Thursday. His office is in the basement of the Stroudsburg Borough Hall.

Office hours are held in Stroudsburg to assist residents of Monroe County in filing claims for social security benefits, to answer any questions which employers or employees may have about the program, and to issue social security numbers.

Miss Miller said that since most of the summer resorts in the Poconos have closed for the season, many Monroe County residents are now eligible to file claims for monthly payments.

The number of claims filed in Stroudsburg the past several months has been smaller than anticipated. Miss Miller believes this may be caused by a misunderstanding on the part of workers. Some men, she explained, fail to file their claims because they have an idea they are not permitted to collect monthly social security benefits and weekly unemployment compensation benefits at the same time. Workers may draw both benefits together.

Any person who has any questions about his standing under social security should visit the representative in Stroudsburg. He is glad to assist the public.

Local Men In Train Wreck

Germond, Pa.—Thirteen freight cars heaved their loads of coal into one big pile when they were derailed here at 9 a.m. Saturday, on route to Tamaqua from Palmerton.

A broken axle on one of the cars was blamed. The Lehigh and Northeastern Railroad freight was northwest of Palmerton at the time.

Witnesses said the freight was moving along a single track. Some 200 feet of the track was torn up.

Five Monroe area men were aboard the freight. No one was reported injured. Local area men were Engineer George Morgan, Conductor Alvin Klinger and Fireman Joseph Correll, all of East Argyle; Head man Harvey Hay, of Delaware Water Gap; and Flagman Arthur Brown, Bangor.

400 Attend Concert At Newfoundland

Newfoundland — Over 400 persons heard a concert of high school mixed chorus and high school band in the Greene-Dreher-Sterling auditorium here Friday night.

The musical program was the highlight of the annual open house conducted at the school, which affords parents and friends of the school an opportunity to inspect the school plant and to see and discuss student work with the faculty.

The local chapter of the Parent-Teachers association served a penny supper in the school cafeteria prior to the program. Officials reported it a financial success.

John Strupewski, music instructor at the school, was in charge of the musical program, directing both the chorus and the band. Ross Smith, student conductor, was on the podium for two band numbers. Charlotte Robacker was accompanist for the choral program.

The chorus sang "Prayer of Thanksgiving," "Our Flag," "Lavender Blue," "Father William" and "One World." Nancy Rohrbacher was soloist in the last number.

The band program follows: "The Liberty Bell March," "Come Back To Sorrento," "The Syncopated Clock," "Footlifter March," "Coast Guards March," "Malaguena," David Carlton, clarinet soloist, "Men of Ohio March," "Blue Tango" and "National Victors March."

Why Thousands of Doctors prescribe pleasant tasting PERTUSSIN FOR BAD COUGHS CAUSED BY COLDS

PERTUSSIN acts at once to relieve coughs, raspy throat and hoarseness—when caused by colds. It also increases natural secretions in the throat and bronchial tubes to help loosen thick, sticky phlegm and make it easier to raise.

PERTUSSIN is safe and mighty effective for both old and young. Pleasant tasting and inexpensive.

The American Ivory-billed woodpecker, long believed to be extinct has been found to be still living in Florida and a reservation has been set aside to preserve the species.

Absentee Ballot

Until World War II, Pennsylvania maintained a strictly conservative policy on voting—no absentee ballot. Either you were at your home polling place on election day or you didn't vote.

This requirement was loosened temporarily for the men in the armed services during the war. Later, when it became clear that large numbers of men and women of voting age would continue to serve, a permanent military ballot law was enacted.

Again, a constitutional amendment made it possible for disabled veterans in hospitals outside their home counties to vote, loosening the ban on absentee voting still further.

This amendment, however, requires correction to permit the men in some Veterans Hospitals to vote.

Before and since the Nov. 4 election several regional citizens have proposed an absentee ballot of more general use, to enable those who unavoidably must be away from home on election day to take part in the election.

There is no estimate of the number of voters who, regularly each year, are disfranchised because of travel. But the number must be considerable.

They would include the postal transport people, other government employes in Harrisburg and Washington who either must take time to travel back home or give up their vote.

They also would include a large number of business men and others whose employment takes them away from home.

Thus far, the absentee voting rights given to service men and disabled veterans have produced no election frauds. Other states have found it feasible to extend the absentee ballot for civilians.

The State Legislature which meets in January should look this proposal over. More citizens voting in an election means a better election.

Properly safeguarded, the absentee ballot can help swell the vote total and assure many people, now disfranchised, of their rights as voters.

Bachelors' Headache

The State Medical Society recently has advanced the startling finding that single persons are much more likely than married persons to suffer from headaches.

This seems incredible at first glance. But after a moment's thought its logic becomes apparent, at least in the case of bachelors and married men.

No wonder bachelors have headaches. Poor fellows never get any wholesome outdoor exercise, like putting up storm windows or mowing the lawn or shoveling snow.

They're probably physically exhausted from carrying heavy loads of money around in their pockets, and just plumb worried sick about the unhealthy surpluses building up in the bank.

It's common knowledge that excessive exposure to the sun causes headaches, and just look at all the sun bachelors must endure during those long, lonely afternoons on the golf course.

"If you suffer from headaches, get married," urges the medical society. Sound advice.

Nothing takes a man's mind off his headache quicker than the solicitous comments of a wife.

Like: "You know, dear, I don't think you'd get these headaches if you didn't smoke so much."

Or: "Of course, I don't mind you going out with the men once in a while, but if it just means you're going to have a headache all the next day..."

Cures 'em quick.

FBI Had Hiss Case Sewed Up Before It Came Before Court

These Days - * * * * * By George Sokolsky

Battling The Devil

The Earl Jovitt, who is about to publish a book in defense of Alger Hiss, has already produced a preliminary article on the subject which gives his point of view.

He almost reminds me of a feminine Hissite who came up with the theory that Alger Hiss was all the time an agent for our government, who had to take the rap so as not to give away his superiors!

The Earl battles with a firmer pen if not with greater logic. First of all, he sets out to give the impression, in polite but nonetheless sure language, that Chambers is mad. He does not say so, for in England that would undoubtedly be libel per se, as the Earl is only a lawyer and not a psychiatrist.

Nevertheless, as one reads what the Earl has to say, it is difficult to believe that he does not desire to convince that Chambers is mad. He says:

"But Mr. Chambers has no misgivings: He is right—and all who differ from him are wrong. He sees himself as the modern St. George, clad in shining armor and engaged in deadly combat with the dragon of Communism. As for the case, it is not a mere case in which an individual called Chambers is testifying against an individual called Hiss. It is a 'tragedy of history.' The generation is on trial and Chambers is a witness to God's Grace. The contest is a contest between the forces of good (as represented by Chambers) and the forces of evil (as represented by Hiss); and what is involved in the contest is the soul of the American people—indeed of the whole free world."

How wrong is Chambers? There is something of the devil in any man who sells out his own country. Chambers did it, repented and tried to make amends. The greatest cost of this psychological process is the acknowledgment of a wasted self.

Hiss, equally guilty, if not more so, proudly continues to deny what he knows to be true; is wholly unrepentant, makes no amends.

Suppose every word that Chambers said of Hiss were untrue; it would be possible to reconstruct the Hiss story from what we now know of the Harold Ware cell in Washington, its infiltration in to the A.A.A. and the Nye and La Follette committees. Earl Jovitt is moving into a mare's nest, for, a lawyer, he deals only with the record before him. But the public will deal with the whole record, much of which has been unavailable because the Administration prevented its use. What the Earl is going to do, when he comes here to lecture, as I am told he intends to do in grand form, is that he will stimulate a Congressional demand for the whole record.

The Earl's article, from which I quote, raises questions which for most Americans have been answered, but the gist of this learned jurist's analysis of the subject is an ad hominem attack on Chambers, not only to establish that he is mad but that it is a form of congenital madness. That was tried during the Hiss trials by the psychiatrist, Dr. A. L. Binger, with sad results for Binger.

It would seem from the context that Jovitt has taken his cue from Alister Cooke's book, "A Generation on Trial," a book which, at the time it was published, I was tempted to review but resisted the temptation because it seemed to me that here was a British reporter who had long been in America and learned too little about its people, most of whom do not live on Park Avenue. Cooke is now an American citizen and by law has become one of us.

When Jovitt's book appears in this country, if ever, I shall read Cooke to see how one has influenced the other. Meanwhile, I found a clipping of a review by Miss Rebecca West in which she says:

"So Cooke goes on, always creating an impression unfavorable to Chambers and favorable to Hiss, in big things and in small. It might be that the Committee would have shown prejudice against Hiss in listening to Chambers if his story about the espionage group had been unrelated to any known persons or events..."

It is possible that Mr. Cooke does not know that the FBI had this case sewed up long before it came to trial and that the Administration prevented the usual judicial course from flowing.

Try And Stop Me

Into one of those fancy new big city candy stores, seemingly modeled after the boudoir of a famed French courtesan, the wife of a Jewish newspaper editor wandered. "I'll take a pound of those chocolates," she decided. "Mmmm means the bon bons." A suave clerk in a cutaway corrected gently. "I also would like some of those cookies," continued the lady. "Ah," breathed the clerk, "our petits fours. Shall we deliver your purchase in our limousine?" "No, thanks," said the lady. "I'll carry them home myself." This was too much for the elegant clerk. "Don't be silly!" he burst out. "Why schlepp a package that big around the streets?"

A friend has spotted a store just off a California highway that proclaims itself: "America's biggest small-super market!" But he adds: "It's not a really good place to shop, however. The self-service is terrible!"

Charge Investigation Caused Suicide Is Smear

Washington Report - * * * * * By Fulton Lewis, Jr.

Washington, Nov. 23—Apologists for the United Nations charge that Grand Jury and Senate Committee investigations of UN employees are responsible for one suicide and that others are teetering on the window ledge.

The accusations are the clearest demonstration yet of Communist and left-wing distortion of facts in the face of damaging disclosures that the United Nations condones and promotes the welfare of American employees who are disloyal to the United States.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie himself is quitting, under fire, but he has taken the opportunity to smear U. S. grand juries and a Senate investigative subcommittee by accusing them of "discriminate smears and exaggerated charges."

He labors under the delusion that Americans trust him because the Kremlin is mad at him. The Kremlin may dislike him now, just as it is sure at Communist Tito, but early in UN history the Secretary-General was beloved by the Politburo.

A. H. Feller, general counsel of the UN, jumped to his death because, his wife has stated publicly, he was engrossed in the success of the UN and feared it was a failure. Senator Pat McCarran, of Nevada, chairman of the subcommittee that has been turning up Communists and Soviet agents among American employees of the UN, has stated publicly that there is "no implication of anything wrong" in the subcommittee's questioning of Feller.

Where is the smear? Where are the exaggerated charges? UN apologists refuse to consider the possibility that Feller leaped in disgust over the disclosure that some Americans were disloyal to his country—Americans he interviewed before they were employed by the UN. It could be Feller asked each one about his or her loyalty to the U.S.A. and each in turn lied to the UN General Council.

The fact is that out of 20 persons interrogated by the Senate subcommittee, 17 declined to admit any Communist affiliations; one admitted he had engaged in espionage against the U.S. Another says she quietly became a citizen of the U.S.S.R., renouncing her allegiance to the U.S.

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

The Broadway Show

Curtain-Time: The Theater's international relations were never friendlier. Reviewers linked another happy alliance with the Gallic repertory troupe, hailing its artistry in "Le Deux..."

Critic Jacques Chapman (in the Daily News) parlayed: "An absorbing, vivid and theatrically expert production..." The Parisian players also inspired colablahs and champagne toasts for their versions of Moliere's "Amphitryon" and "Les Fourberies de Scapin"...

The National Theater of Greece troupe arrived with "Electra," starring the electric Katina Paxinou. The drama-diplomats became enchanted allies of the star and show. Reviewer Spyros Atkinson (of the N. Y. Times) rejoiced: "A tragedy that still retains heroic stature"...

An American cast and the play, "The Seven Year Itch," triumphed, too. This gay-guy-gal spoof transformed most critics into cupids. They showered Vanessa Brown and Tom Ewell with valentines. The H-Trib's Walter Kerr wrote: "A delightful addition to the season"...

Variety's New Haven playboy reported John Van Druten's "I've Got Sixpence" can make "a pretty penny on Broadway"...

Hartford's lightsaunders inspected "See the Jaguar" and gave the lion's share of credit to Arthur Kennedy's performance and mourned that the script is weaker than a kitten. Philly critics, however, enjoyed it.

In the Wings: At Lindy's the chatter dealt with Josephine Baker's Argentine blasts at the U. S. "Proving," observed one fellow, "how right WW was about Josephine since Oct. 16th (1951) when she staged her Worst Performance at the Stork Club"...

"She turned out to be," sighed a column-roster, "a blessing in disguise"...

UN employees, in other words, take an oath that they will work on behalf of all mankind impartially, accepting no orders from any individual government. "There are 4,000 UN employees, from Communist and non-Communist countries."

If Russia wants to be represented in the UN by Communists, as she does, and if Great Britain and France desire to do so, that is their business. The U.S.A. is a non-Communist country—or will be as soon as we can change the present administration—and the U.S.A. is entitled to be represented at the UN by non-Communists.

Looking At Life

—by Erich Brandeis

There are two great blessings we have in this country for which we should be eternally grateful.

The first one was discussed by Dr. John R. Everett, President of Hollins College of Virginia, in the magazine published by his school.

It is that we, here in America, have the blessing of VOLUNTARY choice.

Dr. Everett wrote his article before the election.

But what more than this past November 4 could have better illustrated his contention?

"The one thought that kept recurring to me was the fact that the United States understands the meaning of the word VOLUNTARY," writes Dr. Everett. "Our children are not brought up to wait simply for orders, and our educational system is not to teach the truth as some one else sees it as an absolute fact. We expect our students to volunteer both opinions and actions. And we expect our leaders to guide but not to order."

There has been a lot of discussion about just what made Eisenhower score such a tremendous victory.

I think that one of the principal reasons was that the present Administrations tried to deprive us of that very ideal of voluntary action.

MAKE us do things that we might gladly have done VOLUNTARILY, but which we refused to do when being ORDERED.

"Because we believe in things we being done VOLUNTARILY, we have achieved an enviable level of cultural development which gives glory to our past and promise to our future," says Dr. Everett.

I am sure that under the new regime the American nation will once again have recaptured its freedom to do, within the law, what its citizens WANT to do.

The other great blessing we possess is the gift of LAUGHTER.

The Communists in Russia and other Iron Curtain countries have suddenly discovered that nobody is laughing there any more.

So they have issued orders to their writers and composers and entertainers to make the people LAUGH.

I don't think they have gone so far as to fix prison sentences for failure to write or compose funny stuff or for NOT laughing.

But if those fellows know what's good for them they'll make people laugh, even if they do so with tears in their eyes."

In a dispatch we are told that on trains and buses, passengers sit in virtual silence, staring cheerlessly before them. Young people rarely laugh and tease in public. Humor is never heard on the radio, infrequently seen in newspapers or magazines.

All so-called humor has a political twist to it and thus becomes unbelievably dull.

In Hungary a newspaper writes: "We need optimistic, merry young people who love life. It is the duty of our youth organizations to see to it that our youth is properly amused."

How wrong that paper is! Laughter MUST be spontaneous. It must be VOLUNTARY. Happiness comes from the heart—not from policemen's guns or government edicts.

Hollywood—Eather Williams generously proportioned beauty is displayed agreeably in a Technicolor swimming extravaganza called "Million Dollar Mermaid." It purports to be the life story of Annette Kellerman, Australian-born swimming star of the '20s.

The movie indicates that Miss Kellerman emancipated womanhood from the old-fashioned, form-concealing bathing suit of many layers. Her one-piece suit shocked Bostonians and got her arrested although, the dialogue brings out, her publicity-wise manager helped arrange the arrest. The manager, James Sullivan, who later became her husband, is handsomely played by Victor Mature.

Miss Kellerman is shown at the start—in the pretty person of 10-year-old Donna Corcoran—as a lame child in Sydney, Australia. Swimming conquers her affliction, and she wins several amateur titles. Her father (Walter Pidgeon) is a musician. When his conservatory folds, they sail to London, Annette (by now Esther) hocks her swimming cups so they can eat.

Mature persuades her to swim down the Thames to publicize his boxing kangaroo. She is an overnight sensation. From Mature's sideshow she progresses

The Real News Newsreel. During Ike's visit to the White House President Truman was so uncomfortable he complained, "I never had to go through a thing like this under the Democrats."

Harvey Georges took the only photo of Harry and Ike in the huddle and it will live in history as one of the best pictures of the Polar regions ever snapped... An ironworker, an undertaker and a plasterer, the N. Y. Crime Probe brought out, are among the scores of nonlawyers getting soft jobs as judges' secretaries...

It is not so strange when you realize that all big cities have some judges whose only requirement of a secretary is that he get the late scratch sheets and find out if they are really trying in the fifth race.

"President Truman Gets 35-lb. Turkey from Poultrymen"—headline. (He got a much bigger bird from the voters) ... This is one year, says the Office Tur, when we could reverse the situation and give Truman to the turkeys ... Mickey Rooney at 32 has taken his fourth wife ... The kid is determined to prove he is big enough to go around with girls ... Eisenhower has resigned as head of Columbia ... Probably feels that Morningside Heights is all right for a vacation but he wouldn't want to live there forever ... And, anyhow, those college-cut clothes of Columbia wouldn't go so well with a Potomac hairshirt ... One of the ex-convicts grilled by the N. Y. Comment on the much ballyhooed dedicatory program from the 12-million dollar Television City in California: "The mountain labored and brought forth a Jack Benny" ... Morton Downey is reported among those boomed for next Mayor of New York ... Gotham is so heavily in the red it may think it could benefit from a little brilliant green ... If Impellitteri, out of Ansonia, Connecticut, could make it, why not Downey, a Wallingford, Connecticut, boy who made good in the city? ... Eniwetok, testing place of the hydrogen bomb, has an ugly sound and may turn out to be world ruin spelled backwards ... Human progress as typified by the H-Bomb: From Adam & Eve to Frankenstein and Hyde ... Despite the bad condition of the racing strip, Bowie has been so beautified by Larry McPhail that it may yet be called MacPhailmont Park ... Or even Hiaharry ... "I Love Lucy" is still top fun, but the program got its appeal through credible situations and is now making a dangerous switch to wildly unbelievable stories.

Mrs. John Stanford Is Nominated For Radio Award

Mrs. John Stanford, of Stroudsburg, outstanding in volunteer work in the health and welfare groups, has been nominated for nation-wide honors in the Mary Margaret McBride Project, which honors women who are demonstrating the democratic way of life at a local level.

Mrs. Stanford was nominated by Mrs. Julia Mansbach, 1201 West Main Street, Stroudsburg, whose letter also was signed by Mrs. E. T. Kunkle, executive director Monroe County Chapter, ARC; and Rev. Thomas Shoemith rector of Christ Episcopal Church, Stroudsburg, and other well-wishers. Because of this nomination she is eligible to be chosen as a winner in the Mary Margaret McBride Project.

Four winners, one from each section of the country, will be selected by a committee representing the three great national women's religious organizations: The United Church Women, National Council of Jewish Women, and National Council of Catholic Women, plus several well known personalities such as Fannie Hurst. The winners will be brought to New York by Mary Margaret McBride in the spring of 1953 and will appear on her radio program.

The Mary Margaret McBride Project is designed to emphasize to women everywhere the fact that the most vital contribution they can make toward maintaining our democratic way of life is by working at the local level—to improve community conditions, better educational facilities, ease race tensions, and in general promote greater understanding.

Mrs. Mansbach enclosed with her nominating letter a clipping from the Stroudsburg Record of September 8, 1952, telling how Mrs. Stanford received this year's Dr. Benjamin Rush Award given by the Medical Society of Monroe County for outstanding volunteer community service.

Mrs. Stanford is chairman of the Red Cross Canteen Service, chairman of Supplies for the Red Cross Home Nursing Service, active in the Community Chest and Cancer Society. Mrs. Stanford organized and supervises the operation of a second-hand clothing room in the Monroe County Court House, where clothing is distributed to needy people. This Clothing Room is sponsored by the charitable organizations of the county.

ESHs Ensemble Entertains Lady Reindeer

The Ladies Independent Order of Reindeer, Herd No. 12, held its annual banquet on Saturday night at the Indian Queen Hotel in honor of their Supreme President, Wilhelmina Houck and Supreme Secretary Lillie Horton, both of Easton.

There were other supreme officers present, and Mrs. Earl Van Why presided.

Featured entertainment was East Stroudsburg High School Ensemble, including both boys and girls, who sang a selection of songs under the direction of Miss Bette Jo Goodall. They were enthusiastically received by the group.

Smithfield Tri-Hi-Y Gives To Childrens Ward

The Junior Tri-Hi-Y of the Smithfield School shared their spirit of Thanksgiving by taking to the children's ward at the General Hospital, toys and gifts they had made.

Dolls of socks, stockings and face cloths, puppets and wired figures were among the offerings. They were allowed to deliver them in person to the children in the ward, and left the remainder as gifts for children yet to come.

The class also toured the new children's ward, not yet open for use, and were the guests of their advisor, Mrs. Ruth Shook, in the Hospitality Shop, after their visit.

St. Luke's WSCS At Adams Home

Brodheadsville—The WSCS of St. Luke's Methodist Church met at the home of Mrs. Ernest Adams on Tuesday, November 21. The meeting opened with prayer scripture reading by Mrs. Lloyd Faust. The lesson topic was "Fruit of Evangelism," taken from the WSCS year book, with readings by each of the members.

After the business meeting social hour was enjoyed and refreshments served to the following members: Rev. and Mrs. Clyde Levergood, Mrs. Jerome Blakeslee, Mrs. Charles Hauck, Mrs. Lillie Green, Mrs. Lloyd Faust, Mrs. Clyde Dietrich and Mrs. Ernest Adams, Nancy Hauck and Shirley Adams. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Lillie Green and will be a Christmas party and gifts will be exchanged for members and their friends.

Christ Church Is Scene Of Wedding

Miss Elva Lou Glass, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Glass Jr., of Scranton, was married on Saturday night at 6 in the Christ Episcopal Church, Stroudsburg, to James Hill, in a quiet ceremony attended only by members of the immediate families.

The bride wore a brown cocktail dress with moleskin jacket and matching hat and shoes.

The ceremony was followed by a wedding supper and reception at the Penn-Stroud Hotel where a three-layer wedding cake was surrounded by white snapdragons to form the centerpiece for the bride's table.

After a motor trip, the bridegroom will report for active duty in the armed services, and the bride will return to Dickinson College, Carlisle, where she is a senior, until her graduation in June.

The bride's father is a former resident of East Stroudsburg, a brother of Mrs. R. S. Worthington and Mrs. Walter von Erock.

Reports Mark Meeting Of Barrett PTA

Barrett—Moving pictures of the School Election Day Parade at Barrett in both 1952 marked the meeting of the Barrett Parent Teachers Association on Wednesday night. They were shown by Roy Seem's with Earl Rose as narrator, and were the finale of a meeting marked by many reports.

Earl Rose, co-editor of the Barrett Bab, the school newspaper, explained the campaign when the paper is conducting on school spirit with the theme, "Don't Be An U.S.S.S., which he translated as meaning, "Unschool-Spirited Sad Sack."

Andrew Lewis, school principal, announced that the Senior Class would present their play on Tuesday, November 23, at 8 p.m., in the Buck Hill auditorium. This year's play is "The Inner Willy" and is being produced by W. B. Roan.

The health and safety club, under the guidance of Joseph Murray, was praised for the successful "Coke-Night" dances they sponsored in the school gym on Friday nights.

It was also reported that the mothers of first grade students had been entertained at a tea given by the first grade teachers, Miss Eleanor Mullen and Mrs. Frances Jurgens, in the home economics room on November 18.

The fourth grade, Miss Mary Bush, teacher, won the PTA award of $2.50 for having the highest percentage of parents present at the meeting.

To Plan Benefit

Members of all organizations of St. Matthew's Catholic Church interested in promoting the coming benefit party have been asked to meet at the church school auditorium this Monday night to make final plans.

The party is scheduled for Monday, December 1, and proceeds will be used for the school band. Mrs. Robert Doyle is chairman of the committee.

Mr. Wimer, who's doctor's thesis has been based on his studies of the United Nations, will speak on International Relations.

The meeting will also be marked by the Thanksgiving program for the school, and refreshments will follow the meeting.

Barrett Legion Aux. Sends Boxes To Men In Service

Barrett—The American Legion Auxiliary of Evans Blitz Post met at the Legion Home on Monday, November 17 with a large attendance.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Charles Price, chairman, and the members of her committee who assisted at the visit of the Red Cross bloodmobile in Barrett on November 4.

Announcement was made that nine Christmas boxes had been packed and sent to servicemen in Korea, and at the meeting ten more boxes were packed, these to be sent to service men in Germany.

The group also planned to send boxes for men in the service in this country, and expressed its appreciation for donations for the boxes.

The next meeting will be held Monday, December 1, at 8 p.m. at the Legion Home.

Legion Aux. Seeks Names Of Veterans

Mrs. Rudolph Blitz Sr., rehabilitation chairman, of the American Legion Auxiliary to George N. Kemp Post 346, has asked that members or anyone knowing of veterans who are ill at home or in hospitals, or of sons, husbands or brothers of members, who are presently serving in Korea, submit those names to her at once so that they may be personally remembered by the local auxiliary at Christmas.

Announcement was also made that the Four-County Council meeting will be held at Easton on December 6. Reservations must be in by November 28, with Miss Betty Becker, 156-J.

Candlelight Wedding For Joan Rogers, W. O. Leader

A candlelit altar and lighted cross formed the background for the wedding of Miss Joan Lillian Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Rogers, of 221 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg, to William O. Leader, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Leader of 72 North Green St., East Stroudsburg on Saturday afternoon at 4 in the East Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Rev. Harold C. Eaton performed the double ring ceremony. The altar was decorated with white snapdragons and palms, with white snapdragons and pompons and white satin bows marking the pews. Ernest Michelfelder was organist and Mrs. Ann George, soloist, sang "Because" and "I Love You Truly."

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of Chantilly lace and candlelight sat in. The fitted bodice of lace had an off-the-shoulder neckline with applied flowers joining it to the nylon net yoke. The long sleeves ended in points at the wrists, and the full skirt of lace, with inserted panels of lace, ended in a chapel length train. Her tiered fingertip veil of illusion fell from a lace cap embroidered with seed pearls and was bordered by matching lace. She carried a lace-covered Bible, with a white orchid marker and wore a five-strand string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom.

Mrs. Paul Rogers, sister-in-law of the bride, was matron-of-honor. She wore a strapless gown of peacock blue lace over taffeta, with a matching jacket, and carried a colonial bouquet of pink, white and blue pompons with a matching floral headpiece.

The bridesmaids, Miss Jean Penzyl and Miss Shirley Leader, sister of the bridegroom, wore similar gowns of shrimp-color lace over taffeta with colonial bouquets of blue, yellow and white pompons and matching headpieces.

Miss Debora Lou Rogers, niece of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a long peacock blue gown of taffeta and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white pompons. She wore a single strand of pearls and a pearl bracelet, a gift from the bride.

Paul Rogers, brother of the bride, was best man, and the ushers were Andrew Secor, and William Rogers, brother of the bride.

A reception was held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony. The bride's table was decorated with white flowers, candles, and a tiered wedding cake. The bride's mother received the guests in a dress of peacock blue velvet with navy accessories. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of royal blue crepe with black accessories. They both wore corsages of pink roses and white pompons.

Mr. and Mrs. Leader left for a wedding trip to New York City with the bride wearing a brown taffeta dress, beige coat trimmed with brown marmot fur, brown accessories and an orchid corsage.

On their return they plan to make their home for the present at 221 East Broad St., East Stroudsburg.

They are both graduates of East Stroudsburg High School. The bride is employed at the Bell Telephone Co. in Stroudsburg, and the bridegroom at Hughes Printing Company.

Christmas Party Planned At Swiftwater

Swiftwater — The chief concern of the members of the Ladies Aid Society of the St. Paul's Reformed Church, at their meeting Thursday night, was the annual Christmas party, for which plans were made.

The group met at the home of Mrs. Helen Schmidt, who was assisted at hostessing by Mrs. Russell Shick. The meeting date was also Mrs. Schmidt's birthday, and in recognition of the occasion, members showered her with cards and good wishes, singing "Happy Birthday" when she served refreshments.

Committees for the Christmas party, which also will feature the revealing of secret pals of the past year, are as follows: Program—Margaret Nelson, Elizabeth Heckman, Clarie Shick, and Mrs. William Foose; decorating—Bertha Rinker, Helen Schmidt, Beatrice Bush, and Grace Kresge; refreshments—Alta Coffman, Sara Hahn, Elsie Rowe, and Gertrude Lindstedt.

It was suggested that those not having secret pals bring a gift for exchange, not over one dollar.

They decided to cut carpet rags during the months after the holidays. Responsible for care of the church for the month are Grace Kresge and Beatrice Bush.

Those present at Thursday's meeting were: Mrs. Blanche Baker, Mrs. Elwood Warner, Mrs. Russell Shick, Mrs. Russell Bach, Mrs. Francis Coffman, Mrs. Arthur Kresge, Mrs. David Nelson, Mrs. Walter Rowe, Mrs. Harry Heller, Mrs. John Lindstedt, Mrs. Walter Coffman, Mrs. Lewis Heckman, Miss Beatrice Bush, Mrs. Clarence Rinker, Mrs. George Hahn, and Mrs. Schmidt.

Son for Gouchers

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Goucher, of North Courtland St., announce the birth of a son Friday, November 21, at 9 p.m. at home. The baby weighed 9 pounds 4 ounces. The Gouchers have an older son and a daughter. Dr. Nina Mae Price was the attending physician.

Gideons Today

The Gideons of the Stroudsburg will meet at the home of Levan B. Flory, 501 Queen St., Stroudsburg on Tuesday, November 25, at 7:30 p.m. for a prayer meeting.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

It's "full dreams ahead" now at Wyckoff's, as every department head plans, with her assistants, just how to present the Christmas picture AND their merchandise to the best advantage in the space allotted them. All decorating is to be complete by Wednesday afternoon, according to a bulletin from our general manager's office—and Mr. Kerlin offers the further incentive of cash prizes for the best efforts.

Already the store columns are encased in green with silver sprays of silver leaves, forming a background for shiny ornaments some of which are as large as oranges. In Helen Levy's Teen department, a mirror rimmed with silvery snow hangs above the table where tiny clip hats of white fur, with matching mittens, attract the pretty young high school girls. Turning to face the infant's department, one finds a cordial "Merry Christmas" glistening its sterling message from atop a chest of drawers.

But all of this—beautiful as it is—is somehow like gilding the lily. For every manufacturer has had the same idea, and the result is merchandise that shouts "Merry Christmas" in its own voice, without any need of prodding and assistance. One can't look at the roebuck sprinkled robes of silk or challis... the dusters with threads of gold... the bottles of perfume with foamy Santas upon the stoppers... the tiny flacons of fragrance with filmy net bows or tiny clusters of shiny berries and such... the sachets that are somehow prettier than at any other season of the year... without knowing the designers were dreaming of Christmas when these ideas were whipped into fact.

And so, Christmas comes again to us all, injecting a new spirit into our daily living and, we hope, into our hearts—erasing much of the dullness, lethargy, pettiness, and indifference that may have crept in during the year. There is excitement in the air once again, and a wish to do one's best even to bending over backward, in the interests of making others happy. This is good... a present both to ourselves and others that can't—but should be—gift wrapped, and looked at often in the days ahead.

Walking back through the store, I stop before a table displaying German merchandise, and marvel at the miniature school room with its double desks and benches, ever-so-tiny ink wells, and easel-type blackboard; and the bedroom and dining room, featuring such furniture as a Welsh cupboard with copper dishes, and a boldly painted chest. It's fascinating—the whimsy of Christmas.

On the same table is a wooden music box that tinkles "Silent Night." As I watch, the delicately carved figure of Mary, the sleeping Babe, and the plump cherubs revolve. Seeing them, one ponders again the miracle of Christmas. Come in and ponder too. There's magic in the air!

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Frank Miller

Miss Lockard Is Bride Of M. F. Miller

Miss Zella Jennie Lockard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin S. Lockard of 112 Elk Street, in East Stroudsburg, became the bride of F. N. Milton Frank Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Miller of Scotrun at 7:30 o'clock on Saturday night before the candle-lit altar of Grace Evangelical Lutheran Church, East Stroudsburg. The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. William F. Wunder Grace Church pastor, in the presence of the immediate families.

Mrs. Rose Howell served as matron-of-honor and Raymond E. Miller, brother of the bridegroom was best man.

The bride wore a white wool street length dress with black accessories and a white rose-bud corsage. Mrs. Howell was attired in a steel grey taffeta street length dress with black accessories and a red rose-bud corsage.

The bridal couple received the sacrament of Holy Communion during the wedding prayers as they knelt before the altar on a white satin pillow.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the bride's home for the bridal party with the immediate families joining in the festivities. The dining room table was graced with a tiered wedding cake which formed the focus of the decorated home. The wedding cake was surmounted by a miniature bride and bridegroom attired in formal full dress attire which had been crested by the bride's mother in accurate detail of design.

The bride attended the East Stroudsburg High School and has been employed at the Famous Store on Crystal Street, East Stroudsburg. The bridegroom attended Stroudsburg High School prior to his enlistment in the United States Navy. He had also been employed by the Pacific Coat Hanger factory in Portland.

The wedding, which was originally scheduled for Thanksgiving night, was moved up to Saturday night because of a change in leave time. The bridegroom reported to the Boston Naval Base early this morning. The newlyweds will make their temporary residence at 112 Elk Street.

Hamilton PTA Meets Tuesday Night

Bartonsville (P) — The Hamilton Township Parent-Teachers' Association will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, November 25 at 8 p.m. in the Kellersville school.

A membership drive is now on and all parents who have children attending school in Hamilton Township are urged to attend this meeting and join the association. There will be special recognition for the school having the largest representation of parents.

Women of the Moose

The Women of the Moose initiated two candidates at their meeting this week at the Moose Hall, Washington Street, East Stroudsburg. Plans for the first annual banquet were discussed and at the next meeting, December 3, plans will be made for a Christmas party.

No Grange Meeting

Cherry Valley — The regular meeting of the Cherry Valley Grange No. 821, Stroudsville will not be held on the regular meeting night which would be on Thanksgiving. Instead it will be held Tuesday night, December 9 at 8:15.

Installation At Church Aux. On Tuesday Night

The Woman's Auxiliary of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church will have installation of officers at their meeting on Tuesday night at 8 at the church.

Rev. Ernest Campbell, pastor of the church, will conduct the installation, and also will speak to the group on plans for reorganization of the auxiliary. Streamlining of monthly meeting, regrouping of members within the circles, and other important decisions will be made at the meeting.

The executive board will meet at 7:30 prior to the regular auxiliary meeting.

Volunteer Cooks Listed At Pocono Pines

Pocono Pines—Volunteer cooks on the Tobyhanna Township School lunch program for the week of November 17-21 were Mrs. Frederick Harrold, Mrs. Ray Fisher, Mrs. Chester Woehle, and Mrs. James Kitchen.

For the week of November 24 Mrs. Robert Keiper, Mrs. Peter Hawk, Mrs. Daniel Starnier, and Mrs. Albert Hanna, all from Blakeslee, have volunteered.

On Wednesday, November 26, the students will be served a Thanksgiving dinner of roast chicken, dressing, gravy, mashed potatoes, peas, cranberry sauce, bread, butter, milk, and ice cream.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

This is the kind of weather puts the roses in the English girls' cheeks, they tell me, but it doesn't seem to do much for us except start everybody coughing, sneezing and blowing his nose.

Except brides, who bloom in any kind of weather. And flower girls, Deborah Lou Rogers sort of stole the show from the older attendants at Jean Rodgers' wedding with her utmost self-possession. It was a pretty wedding though, and shrimp and peacock blue are colors that fairly glow in a dim church interior.

Outside of weddings the weather seemed to have affected everybody even the youngsters at the Youth Center. Or maybe it was just the big dances on the night before had taken the starch out of them. Anyway, things perked up a little when the ESHS ensemble arrived after having enthralled the Lady Reindeer at their banquet.

Thought maybe there'd be a slackening off in the meetings and parties before Thanksgiving, but instead everybody seems to be hurrying up to get the meeting out of the way before hand. Particularly the PTA groups.

Oh well, if they can stand it, we can, I guess. We'll just grab a box of paper handkerchiefs and a box of cough drops and tag along.

Can Be Used With Steam Or Hot Water

Are you looking for luxurious automatic heating for your home? H. C. Archibald Co., 406 Main St., has the answer to this question in the new Johnson "Econolux" Oil Burner.

The Econolux can be used with steam or hot water radiators or radiant heating systems, and it is also adaptable to home, industrial or commercial use.

At a price within reach of any modest income, the Johnson Standard-Model Econolux will bring the carefree comfort and convenience of modern, automatic oil-heating to any average home. Thousands of them are in service all over America; giving homeowners the kind of heat they've always wanted: Economical, dependable, quiet, safe and clean. With an Econolux, they are getting exactly the heat they want at any hour of the day . . . without any furnace watching, without dust and dirt, without worry and work.

The Econolux is a marvel of space-saving compactness. Yet it has ample heating capacity to meet the needs of any average home in even the severest climate. It is powered by the famous Johnson Bankheat Burner . . . a burner that is known and respected by heating engineers all over the world.

The Econolux is available for use with either steam radiators or hot water radiators, giving top performance with either type of system. It has been outstandingly successful in meeting the needs of modern radiant heating systems.

To give you complete flexibility in choosing the exact size and capacity needed to meet any and every requirement, the Econolux is available in seven sizes.

The Econolux utilizes 80% of the heat value in the oil that it burns . . . an efficiency that few heating units can equal. This exceptional efficiency gives you more heat from every gallon of oil with the result that you burn less oil and pay smaller fuel bills. It is the result of the three-pass boiler design and the famous "banked-heat" principle on which Bankheat Burners operate.

The compactness and the structural design of the Econolux simplify the work and the expenses of installation.

If you want the last word in dependable, carefree heating with a minimum of maintenance and fuel costs, heat your home with an Econolux.

Kitchen Aid Dishwasher At Wyckoff's

The Kitchen Aid dishwasher ends the "never ending" job of dishwashing completely and automatically, says Jack LaBar of Wyckoff's Electric Shop.

The Kitchen Aid dishwasher is so different, so revolutionary — so packed with added performance features that it surpasses anything you've ever seen or dreamed of. It does your dishes the way you want them done . . . gently, yet so thoroughly — with a degree of perfection unmatched in the home dishwasher field.

The Kitchen Aid dishwasher is economical too. It carefully measures the water it uses — two and one-third gallons of fresh, clean hot water for each wash and rinse cycle. When you open the door during the operation to put in a forgotten piece of tableware, it doesn't waste detergent or hot water — for you merely suspend the cycle momentarily until you close the door.

Yes, Kitchen Aid even helps pay for itself—in better living for you and your family . . . in saving of time, soap, towels, dishes and daily energy. Your attention is directed to the advertisement featuring the Kitchen Aid dishwasher on this page.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Christian and Mrs. Joseph Hufford, of Snyderville, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. George Frable, Stroudsburg, RD and called on Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reaser.

Tamiment Institute Makes Third Annual Book Awards To Chambers And M. J. Pusey

By Leonard Randolph

The third annual awards for outstanding work in the field of biographical literature were made Saturday at a luncheon in the Waldorf-Astoria Hotel in New York by Tamiment Institute, a subsidiary of Camp Tamiment.

Awards, consisting of a scroll and $500 each, were presented to Whittaker Chambers for his autobiographical story of the Communist underground "Witness" and to Merlo J. Pusey for his biography of the late Supreme Court Justice "Charles Evans Hughes."

Nearly 300 persons, including a number of Monroe County residents, who attended the luncheon heard Louis Waldman, noted labor attorney describe Tamiment Institute as "performing the great public service of stimulating and encouraging fine biographies of Americans whose lives are of historic significance."

"The two books selected this year, are most fitting," Waldman said, "for they typify Tamiment's long fight to expose the Communist international conspiracy and at the same time to extol the affirmative ideals of living democracy."

Waldman acted as master of ceremonies for the luncheon. In his remarks he noted that he had a great personal interest in the award to Mr. Pusey's book on Hughes.

The attorney then recalled the time, in 1920, when he and four other members of the Socialist party had been legally elected to the New York State legislature.

When the 1920 legislature convened, however, a successful movement to oust the five Socialists was made. The move would have succeeded, apparently, Waldman said, had it not been for the public action of Charles Evans Hughes.

In a dramatic and fiery defense of the rights of duly-elected representatives to take their seats in the legislature, Hughes appeared before the State assembly and denounced their removal from office. Waldman and the four remaining Socialists were allowed to take their seats.

The attorney pointed out that "in coming to the defense of our group, Hughes also sacrificed his chances for becoming President of the United States." Hughes, who had previously been a vice-presidential nominee of the GOP had been slated for the presidential slot in the 1920 convention—a year in which a Republican victory was virtually assured.

Presentation of the Tamiment Institute award to Merlo Pusey was made by Justice Bernard Botin.

In his address, Botin called the Pusey work "the definitive Hughes biography" and declared it would be "the principal source book for years to come."

Justice Botin recalled Hughes' opposition to the "court-packing bill" during the Roosevelt administration and outlined the late Chief Justice as an outstanding liberal in his opinions handed down during the difficult years of the formative New Deal.

"If he were alive today," Botin said, "Hughes would blush for shame for some of the hit-and-run strivers for headlines" who occupy important positions in the nation.

Pusey, an associate editor of the "Washington Post," in accepting the award said: "I am told that the Annual Tamiment Institute Book Award was instituted as a means of focusing attention upon the lives of great Americans in the hope that they may serve as examples to their followers. For that reason, the selection of my volumes on Charles Evans Hughes for this award affords double satisfaction. It means that Tamiment sees in Mr. Hughes, as I do, a character from whom his fellow-countrymen may learn the lessons of integrity, fearlessness, tolerance, respect for civil rights and a high degree of statesmanship."

Pusey, whose book has won both the Pulitzer Prize for biography and a Bancroft award in the same field, declared that "without the insistent demand for fair play... free speech may well become the tool of demagogues."

Presentation of the award to Whittaker Chambers was made by Dr. George N. Shuster, president of Hunter College, New York, who said "we are paying our respects to a writer who has come out of a special kind of slavery."

Comparing "Witness" with "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the college president called them both "earthquake books" which "shook American complacency and made it possible to build new edifices of thought where old ones had stood."

"We (as a nation) are safer now because Whittaker Chambers has written his book," Dr. Shuster concluded.

The award to Chambers was accepted by John Chamberlain, former editor of "Life" magazine and now editor of "The Freeman." Chambers, who was hospitalized two weeks ago following a heart attack, sent a telegram of gratitude to the Institute for the award.

Chamberlain, a long-time associate of the author and coworker with him on the national picture magazine, described public reaction to Chambers when the confessed former Communist courier first went before the Washington investigators.

"Some people said he was a psychopath," Chamberlain noted.

Wednesday night callers at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clair Shiett were Mrs. Fred Metzgar and daughter, Gladys, of Tannersville. Members of the Pocono Union Ladies Aid Society who attended Thursday's meeting were: Mrs. Ed. Wagner, Mrs. John Travers, Mrs. Stewart Bush, Mrs. Martha Henry, Mrs. Eallie Henry, Mrs. Lettie Wood, Mrs. Blanche Temp, Mrs. Vida Siskler, Mrs. Cora Waiter and the hostess, Mrs. Walter Lindstedt.

Mrs. Hilda Robbins recently visited Mrs. Lettie Wood.

On Monday night Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Detrick and children called on Mr. and Mrs. James Detrick of Ananionk.

"That's the most untrue thing ever said. He would have done anything to avoid that whole thing," Chambers "frequently said he didn't like informers" the speaker declared, and "prided himself on being one ex-Communist who wrote about everything but Communism."

The editor characterized Chambers as a man dedicated to the simple life although embroiled in a complex series of circumstances over which he had little control.

"He likes to take you around the stables (at his farm in Maryland) and introduce you to his cows," Chamberlain said. "He'd put one of them on the rump or head and call her by name. He really loved those cows."

After having spoken of "Witness" as paralleling a novel by Dostoevsky, Chamberlain compared Whittaker Chambers to Albert Schweitzer, world-famed religious leader and philosopher.

"Witness," although a "profound book," the editor said, "gives only one side of Chambers." He depicted the author as a man with a "sunny disposition" who "always had a jest" for his associates.

An unscheduled speech was given by Sidney Hook, head of the department of philosophy at New York University. Dr. Hook, speaking entirely without notes, expressed his admiration for Chambers' courage and his personal disagreement with some of the theistic portions of "Witness."

Hook was the author of the New York Times review of "Witness" which appeared shortly before the book's publication. Dr. Hook's "disagreement" with Chambers centers mostly about the latter's contention that "if you do not believe in God... you must believe in Hitler or Stalin."

"Witness" describes the experiences of Chambers as a member of the Communist underground in the U. S. It has been on best-seller

Ben Josephson, managing director of Tamiment, delivered a brief address at the beginning of the dinner and introduced Waldman to the group.

The 1952 awards for biographical and autobiographical literature were the third annual presentation by the Institute in this field.

In 1950, the book award went to Rupert Hughes for his novel "The Giant Awakes" based on the life of the pioneer labor leader Samuel Gompers, founder of the American Federation of Labor.

The 1951 award went to Ethel Waters (and Charles Samuels) for her autobiographical story "His Eye Is On The Sparrow."

Free Booklet Reveals Why Loss Of Hearing Should Be Checked Immediately

CHICAGO (Special)—Does a hearing impairment become progressively worse? Are persistent or recurring ear noises a sign of deafness? Does lost hearing cause other complications? Bangor Hopeful Of Gaining Ground In Long Rivalry With Pen Argyl On Thanksgiving Day

Bangor—Bangor High school will be out to gain its second straight victory over Pen Argyl on Thanksgiving Day and take another step toward bringing the arch rivals closer together in a football series that began in 1922.

Pen Argyl has won 17 of the 31 games played thus far, while Bangor has 12 victories to its credit, including last year's 18-7 decision, while three games have resulted in a tie. Two games were played between Bangor and Pen Argyl in 1923 and 1924.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools send their football teams back to the practice fields today, after a weekend of inactivity, in what will undoubtedly be the last bit of heavy work for the respective grid machines that line up against each other on Thursday morning, at 10 a.m. While the gridgers take part in two more workouts, with a light drill probable for tomorrow.

Interest in this year's portion of the series that began back in 1922 is hitting an absolute high in spectator interest, despite the fact that the Mountaineers of Stroudsburg have won all seven games played thus far, although last year's encounter was won by a single point. East Stroudsburg is out to crack the victory ice for the first time and finish its most outstanding campaign in the history of football at the N. Courtland St. school. Stroudsburg would like nothing better than to also finish the season with a win and continue its domination over the Cavaliers.

East Stroudsburg is currently coasting along with a mark of seven victories and one loss, while Stroudsburg has won five of nine trips to the gridiron. Although the Cavaliers have a better record than the Mountaineers for the 1952 campaign, past scores, as pointed out several times recently, mean absolutely nothing in a game of this type. To prove my point, one must only look back to yesterday afternoon when the Philadelphia Eagles took the measure of the Cleveland Browns, 28-20, after the Eagles had taken it on the chin at the hands of the same Browns earlier this season, 49-7.

In fact, both the Cavaliers and Mountaineers have a lot in common, more than meets the eye when the comparative records come up for examination. The performance of Jack Sommers against Nazareth brought to the front the fact that Thursday's battle could turn into a contest of quarterbacks, as Stroudsburg's signal caller, Karl Weingartner, is certainly in the running for All-Lehigh Valley League honors.

Both clubs have more than their share of breakaway runners that can change the complexion of the game without advance notice. Dick Merring and Jim Kintz are two of the best runners in the history of East Stroudsburg football, while the 1952 scoring feats of Bill Bailey will be remembered as long as thrilling running plays are discussed by Stroudsburg fans. Benny Miller is a deceiving runner, one that can pick up those valuable yards when Stroudsburg needs to gain ground.

George Litts, East Stroudsburg fullback, is the guy that cracks the line when anywhere from three to five yards are needed, and thus far George has failed his mates very few times. The Eastburg back can also trot the distance when the chips are down, as proven by his 35-yard scamper against a big Nazareth club for the third touchdown scored by the Cavaliers. Leon Alberts, while noted for his defensive skill, can also log the pigskin for East Stroudsburg, and Jack Whittle, Stroudsburg, can be placed in the same category.

An oddity in the game will be the fact that both right ends will do the punting for the respective teams. Captain Al Adelmann does the booting for Stroudsburg, while Jim Fritz handles the kicking chores for the Cavaliers. In Adelmann, Stroudsburg also has an outstanding pass snatcher, as does East Stroudsburg in Dick Transue, the offensive left end. In addition to catching passes, both Adelmann and Transue can run like educated backs.

Both clubs are strong at the tackle spots. East Stroudsburg will feature a pair of rugged front wallmen in the persons of John "Juice" Ernst and Joe Shea, who have led the purple and white line to seven victories this season. Stroudsburg on the other hand will send Dick Campeotto, Bill "Mighty Moe" Moran and Carl Hagerty into the battle as its tackles, with Campeotto and Hagerty alternating on offense and defense respectively. All are big guys that like the going when it's the rough.

The same may be true of the guards, as Stroudsburg sends Russ Bachman, regarded as one of the best linemen in history at the W. Main St. school, and Jim Driebe into the contest on offense, while Tom Berger, 230 pounds, takes over for Bachman on defense and Russ moves to left end. Eastburg will counter with Bill "Pendulum Foot" Rogers, who has been having good success in the extra point department, and scrappy, likeable Carl Smith. Dick London, Eastburg and Lou Hoover, Stroudsburg, are highly regarded centers. From this angle there's little to choose in this talent.

Bangor, Pen Argyl To Battle

Pen Argyl—Bangor and Pen Argyl High schools will send their junior varsity football teams into action here at Weona Park today, at 2 p.m. It will be the final game of the season for both squads.

Postponed

This contest was originally listed for Saturday, but because of rain and thoroughly soaked grounds the game was postponed until today, with hopes that the weatherman will show some signs of cooperation.

Bangor's yearlings have yet to win a game this season, while Pen Argyl has held an in-and-out club.

Teachers Form Only Unbeaten Clubs In State

By The Associated Press

The 1952 football season, over for all but two Pennsylvania colleges—has dumped all but three schools from the unbeaten and untied class and left Villanova and Penn State as the only major powers with a possible chance of a New Year's bowl bid.

Clarion State Teachers College, one of the three schools to finish with a perfect record, already has accepted a bowl date, but the game between either Catawba or Lenoir-Rhyne will be played December 13 in the first annual Lions' Bowl gridiron contest at Salisbury, N. C. Clarion and the other two unbeaten schools, West Chester State Teachers and Shippensburg, wound up their seasons on November 16.

Losers Rating
Franklin & Marshall, the only other school with a perfect record, lost its rating Saturday with a 20-6 drubbing at the hands of Gettysburg's eleven.

Only the University of Pennsylvania with a record of three wins, three losses and two ties, and Lincoln University with a five-win, three-loss standing, have games to play, each on Thanksgiving Day.

The Villanova Wildcats have had a tentative invitation from Gator Bowl officials for the New Year's Day classic and their 51-6 victory Saturday over Boston University may seal the date.

While the Wildcats poured it on football, Penn State—a 10-point underdog—crushed the University of Pittsburgh's hopes for an Orange Bowl bid and moved into bowl contention by a 17-0 upset. Thus, the Nittany Lions repaid a 1948 debt when Pitt ruined a perfect season for the invading Lions with a 7-0 triumph which cost them a bowl bid. A Pitt official conceded that Saturday's loss dissipated whatever prospects Pitt had for the New Year's Day trip to Miami.

Penn State tallied a touchdown in the second quarter and added a field goal and a touchdown in the final period as 53,766 fans watched in gloom—both atmospheric and fan-wise.

In some of the annual rivalries around the state:

Lafayette Rows
The Lehigh Engineers dunked Lafayette in the sea of mud at Fisher Stadium, 14-7; Dickinson whipped Transue 18-6; Bucknell was surprised by underdog Delaware, 13-0; and Swarthmore sneaked by Haverford, 14-12.

Other state results saw Scranton edge Albright 7-6; Lebanon Valley and a six-game Junia winning streak, 13-6; and Temple outclassed by Holy Cross, 28-0.

Delaware's Blue Hens bottled up Brad Myers at Newark, Del., and Bucknell's Bisons had no other offensive weapon to offer as Schuylkill Jimmy Flynn streaked for two touchdowns on a 35-yard pass from Ken Rieth and a 51-yard run through the entire Bucknell eleven.

And in Reading, the Scranton Royals blocked an Albright attempt in the end zone and guard Sam Just kicked the extra point to give the visitors a one-point victory over Albright before 500.

Seven Entries Deadlock For Top Spots In Two Divisions Of National Football League

By Ralph Keden

New York (AP)—Seven teams went into a tie for best place in the two divisions of the National Football League yesterday with four of them deadlocked in the National Conference and three in the American Division.

Los Angeles' Rams, the league's defending champions, defeated the San Francisco 49ers, 35-9 as the

Tickets On Sale Today

Students may purchase reserved seat tickets for Thursday's football game between Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg High schools for adults unable to be present at the respective schools at the time of sale today, it was announced last night by Lewis R. Hastie, faculty athletic manager at East Stroudsburg High.

The times of sale today are from 12 noon to 1 p.m. and from 3:30 to 4 p.m., and no tickets will be sold during school hours.

Tickets are selling for $1.50. General admission tickets may be turned in for reserved seats, with the difference in price. Only two tickets will be sold to each person applying for pastedowns.

Hastie also pointed out that all members of the East Stroudsburg varsity must have claimed reserved seat tickets for their parents by 8:30 a.m. today or the tickets will be put on sale.

No reservations may be made by telephone or any other means in addition to the regular purchase route.

This is the final sale of reserved seats for the 1952 "Battle of the Boroughs".

Charles To Meet Bivins

New York (AP)—Ezzard Charles and Jimmy Bivins, a couple of heavyweight rivals from away back, clash for the fifth time in a 10 rounder at Chicago Wednesday night.

Charles, the former heavyweight king, holds a 3-1 edge over the Cleveland veteran. Outpointed by Bivins away back in 1943, Charles more than made up for that by victories in 1946, 1947 and 1948. Life must make it four in a row over Bivins to stay in the running for a title shot.

The 10 p.m. (EST) bout will be broadcast and telecast by CBS.

YMCA Circuit To Roll

Action in the YMCA Senior League is carded for the Pocono Bowling Center today, at 9 p.m. Schedule follows:

Alleys one and two—Pocono Diner vs Paint Service Center.
Alleys three and four—Monroe Co-op vs Huffman and Sons.
Alleys five and six—Fred's Flash vs Patterson-Kelley.
Alleys seven and eight—Herb's Men's Shop vs Kulp's Foundry.

TTHS Opens Basketball Season

Pocono Pines—Tobyhanna Township High school, title holder in the Monroe County Basketball League for the past three years, will open its 1952-1953 cage season today by playing host to White Haven High, here on the TTHS home hardwood.

A junior varsity contest is listed for 7:15 p.m. and the varsity battle one hour later.

Frank's Barber Shop, East Stroudsburg, plays its second game of the season tonight, meeting the Hackettstown Sportsmen, at Hackettstown, at 8 p.m.

One Count Voted Number One Horse

New York (AP)—One Count, winner of the rich Belmont Stakes and a number of other top-flight events, was named Horse of the Year yesterday in the Morning Telegraph's annual poll.

The racing publication announced that the three-year-old son of Count Fleet from the stable of Mrs. Walter M. Jeffords had gained 19 of the 31 first place votes by handicappers, trackmen and sports writers.

Six first place votes went to Alfred G. Vanderbilt's unbeaten juvenile, Native Dancer, a unanimous selection for the best two-year-old, while the other votes were scattered among four horses.

Three Vote
Calumet Farm's three-year-old Billy, Real Delight, received three votes while one each went to Greentree Stable's Tom Fool, William G. Helis Jr.'s Spartan Valor and Charfran Stable's Crafty Admiral.

It was the first time a horse owned by Mrs. Jeffords had been honored in the poll, started in 1936, and it was the ninth time in the last ten that the title had fallen to a three-year-old.

Tom Fool, last year's leading two-year-old, overcame a bad start and at the end was one of the leading handicap horses.

Two ESSTC Stars Honored By King's

Wilkes-Barre—Bob Rhiel, East Stroudsburg State Teachers College end, was named on the King's College all-opponent grid machine selected by the King's gridgers.

Pin Spots - - -

By Cal Counterman

John Javitt had the 693 to be high man in the East Stroudsburg Church League last Monday, but Herb Kistler had the odd game of the night. In the second game between the Methodist and Presbyterian teams, Herb started with a split, came back with a double and then went on with splits in the fourth, seventh and 10th frames. Between these splits, he placed a double each time for the total of four splits and three doubles for 187. When so many splits ruin an obviously good game, many a bowler is disgusted and comes back with another poor one. But not Herb, as he came back to redeem those splits in the last game with a 293.

Crowe's Insurance entry in the D-V League went into Saturday's contest tied for first place and hoping that it could come out with first place untied. After a shaky start in the first game, Jake got his men calmed down and proceeded to roll a 1054 in the middle game and missed single by a few pins. This, when coupled with their last game, gave them the total of 2309 pins, and three points from Riegel Ridge. Depending on how Dainty Potato Chip made out with Capuro's, Jake and the boys may be in one of three positions, first place, tied for first or in second position. That is how important one point can be in a close race.

Marie Bonser is still pin bled as when the score was added up last Tuesday, another high individual match was listed. Marie has moved her high up a few pins as she hit 176-224-182 for the total of 582. Her previous high was a 572, but her single of 244 still stands as the score to beat. We are looking for a 600 any night.

At the Legion last Monday, the Commandos blasted a high riding team of Jokers for four points on the high bowling of Cole and Kishpaugh, with able assistance from Cohen, Jackson and Hay. The only time the Jokers came close was in the last game when Ott hit a 235 as they lost the game of 11 pins.

Sarah Kresge of Bachman Oil in the Stroud Ladies was at it again last Thursday, converting two nice splits. She made a 6-7-10, and then made the 6-8-10. All of this happened while the team coupled the third two games at 666 and the first one came back with a 703 to miss its triple.

Lockard, who leads off for Baylor's Esso, was the top man in the David Schmidt League last Monday on a 561 with games of 169-223-169. His big middle game gave Baylor's the only point, they received, as it had the necessary punch to win the game by 14 pins. He was high for the night on the slim margin of one pin, as H. Baustein was close behind with a 560 on games of 173-199-188.

The "B" League had another team take the headlines this week. When the dust cleared after the usual six matches in this league, the men of Chestnut Grove turned in the score of 2328 on the high bowling of Angelo DeSanto who hit 294-215-296, which totaled 805. They were high but the other two teams who are also grabbing the headlines in this league, also were right up there as Stroudsburg Auto Body hit 2625 and Mountain Cleaners totaled 2684.

Herb's Men's Shop in the YMCA Senior Circuit, is a team made up of boys graduated from the pit end of the bowling alley. They made a showing for themselves last week as they cornered all the honors in the league. Strouse, who hit from the anchor position, had single on 208 and high match with a 518. The team took over with a 912 single and a 2314 match to be high.

Square Bar took four points and first place in the "A" League as they hit three games of 911-908-900 for high of 2809 for the night and year in the league. Dick Andrews was the high man in the league on 224-179-210 for a 613, but Chet Hilliard took single honors with a 256. This league has the race on at the present time between Square Bar, in first place by one-half point, and Bill Altier's, the team in second place by virtue of the half point. Close behind comes Deerhead Inn at the present time riding in the third spot and only four points out.

Fabel's Dairy lost three points to Community Bar in the Record Major in a close contest. They lost the total wood point on a three-pin margin. Community hit 2488 while Fabel's had a 2483. Stroudsburg Candyland had high for the night on 2361 for three points from Scheller and Kitchen. The one point they lost to Scheller and Kitchen was the game when the W. Main St. boys took high single of the night on 903 and this proved to be the high for Candyland for the night as it hit 831, its other two games being 821 and 829.

Marsh's Foundry had high single with 810 in the Twin Boco League on Friday, but Monroe Distributors took match score with a 2306.

Crowe's Five Triumphs Over Riegel Ridge

Crowe's Insurance rallied after the first game and won three points from Riegel Ridge in a Delaware Valley League bowling match at Harmon's Recreation on Saturday. The East Stroudsburg team was tied for first place prior to Saturday's action.

Jake Nittel was both high single and high match kiegler, with scores of 247 and 644, while Jack Darr was next in the single line with a 246 second game. Dick Andrews with games of 176, 211, and 209, good for a 596 match, was second high in the match scores.

Lead Losers
Paul Apple, Frank Gugliuzza, Jack McCarthy and Jim Corcoran led the losing attack for Riegel Ridge.

Scores follow:

Crowe's Insurance	Riegel Ridge
Nittel	247
Andrews	246
Javitt	196
Darr	188
Summers	173

Wisconsin, Purdue Tie For Big Ten Conference Crown

New York (AP)—The college football season is almost over, but the confusion lingers on.

The Big Ten Conference race wound up in a tie and the Rose Bowl nomination must be settled by vote of the members. The Orange Bowl has selected only one team and four of the 10 major conference championships are still up in the air.

The most exciting Big Ten race in years wound up in a tie between Wisconsin and Purdue when the former was unable to halt Minnesota's Paul Giel and the latter was able to stop Indiana on the one-yard line.

Giel's two touchdowns passing and one running resulted in a 21-21 tie which left Wisconsin with a 4-1-1 conference record. At about the same time, Purdue was preserving its 21-16 victory over Indiana by halting the frantic Hoosiers' longest on the goal line. This gave Purdue a duplicate 4-1-1 record.

Meanwhile, Ohio State gained its first victory over Michigan in seven years, a convincing 27-7 triumph that smashed Michigan's hopes for the crown.

Votes
Athletic directors of the 10 conference schools sent their vote for bowl representative to Commissioner Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson, who will announce the verdict at 1 p. m. (EST) today. If the vote is 5-5, the members will be re-pollled until the tie is broken, for there is no possibility of a playoff.

Southern California, qualifying for its 11th Rose Bowl game, showed 96,869 Memorial Coliseum fans and millions of television watchers a first class team in their 14-12 victory over UCLA. The win gave Southern Cal. number four in the Associated Press poll, the Pacific Coast Conference title. UCLA had been ranked third.

The Orange Bowl situation was still up in the air, although Alabama was selected to fill one spot and the other selection was expected to be announced within 24 hours.

Alabama wrapped up one spot with a clear-cut 27-7 verdict over slumping Maryland, rated seventh in the AP poll but slipping fast. The "Bama" forward wall bottled up quarterback Jack Scarbath, except for one touchdown pass, and cleared the way with devastating blocking for the Crimson Tide's hard-running backs.

Syracuse, aiming to be the first eastern bowl team since Penn State tied Southern Methodist 13-13 in the 1948 Cotton Bowl, fashioned a mud-spattered 26-13 triumph over Fordham. Pat Stark passed for four touchdowns despite the slop.

Tulsa kept in the running with a 44-34 victory over Arkansas and Penn State simplified matters somewhat by flattening Pitt, 17-0, before a disappointed crowd of 53,000 at Pittsburgh. Kentucky also gained stature off its 14-14 tie with Tennessee, number seven team in the poll and already selected to meet Texas in the Cotton Bowl. Kentucky also has a tie with sixth-ranked Mississippi, Georgia Tech's Sugar Bowl foe. Florida accepted a Gator Bowl bid following its 43-6 thumping of the University of Miami.

Alabama Signs To Appear In Orange Bowl Grid Classic

Miami, Fla. (AP)—Alabama was signed yesterday to play in the Orange Bowl football game New Year's Day.

The selection of the Crimson Tide, 27-7 conqueror of Maryland, was announced by Orange Bowl President Sam McCormick.

Alabama's opponent has not been named, but there was increasing evidence that it would be Syracuse.

Schedule Chairman R. D. Freeman is now in Washington, D.C., presumably to sign an eastern team, and Syracuse is considered the top possibility in that section.

Alabama has a 6-2 record and one game left with Auburn next Saturday.

The Tide was ranked 14th in the nation in last week's Associated Press poll and may jump up several notches this week after the slaughter of Maryland. Syracuse was just behind Alabama in 15th place.

Alabama defeated Mississippi Southern 20-6, Louisiana State 21-20, Miami 21-7 and VPI 33-0 before dropping its first game to Tennessee, 20-0.

The Tide swept over Mississippi State 42-19, Georgia 34-19 and Chattanooga 42-28, then gave the nation's number two team, Georgia Tech, a bad scare before dropping a 7-3 decision.

Syracuse has a 6-2 record, including losses to Michigan State and Bowling Air Force Base, and victories over Boston U., Temple, Cornell, Holy Cross, Penn State, Colgate and Fordham.

New Teams In Eastern Cage Circuit

Hazleton (AP)—Two new teams will hit the boards when the Eastern Professional Basketball League opens its seventh season December 6.

Seven teams will compete in the league.

Newcomers to the circuit are the Wilkes-Barre Aces and Lebanon. The former takes over for the Pottsville Packers, last year's champions, while Lebanon will take over the York-Ashland-Hazleton franchise.

Returning

Two inactive teams from last season, Harrisburg and Berwick, are returning to competition this year along with Lancaster, Sunbury and Williamsport. The eighth member of the league, Reading, will not play this year.

The opening night schedule is: Lancaster at Sunbury, Harrisburg at Berwick and Lebanon at Williamsport.

Other opening games are scheduled for: December 7—Wilkes-Barre at Harrisburg; December 8—Berwick at Wilkes-Barre; December 10—Sunday at Lebanon; and December 11—Williamsport at Lancaster.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 24, 1952

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—You can succeed many ways in work, profession, at socials, at home. If you use the given talent, properly, do it alone where you know your way; seek advice where you should.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Taurus has grit, emotion, intelligence. All you need is to exercise will power, desire. You will be surprised at top results.

May 21 to June 20 (Gemini)—Scan your outlook in business-like manner. Day has other business advantages. Progress with right enthusiasm, honest effort. Your reward will be worth talking about.

June 21 to July 20 (Cancer)—Unexpected gains from almost forgotten sources; so be on sharp lookout. Wise energetic ambition without strain will bring happy returns.

July 21 to August 20 (Leo)—Triplomatic, civic officials, public executives; teachers, doctors, merchants. Work harder for, and expect, greater achievement.

August 21 to September 20 (Virgo)—Be encouraged for planets are in favorable position for your well planned efforts. New ideas, new thoughts, new plans. Much in your favor if you are alert.

September 21 to October 20 (Libra)—If outlook isn't exactly as you'd like, or what you had planned, change your tactics. Don't sulk or quit. That would not be a wise move.

October 21 to November 20 (Scorpio)—Cooperation with associates. Double your blessings. Show initiative, new ideas.

November 21 to December 20 (Sagittarius)—"Grand" is the word, success is your reward if you are following right course, with faith and confidence. Romance rates.

December 21 to January 20 (Capricorn)—Stretch a point being amenable, doing a favor. Too often we want to be heard, demand our way. Check on that!

January 21 to February 20 (Aquarius)—You should have little trouble promoting your ideas, causes. Day can be very productive but you must also be able to give, and receive, love.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Sort of day in which you can make up some of the past. Make a little plan for a better future. Heart in needs, headless.

YOU BORN TODAY: are generally capable, dependable and symbolize action, the business sense. You are, naturally magnanimous, jovial, enthusiastic in all you do, some times too much so. Can make headway in science or other professional career. Avoid indiscretion, criticism. Zachary Taylor, 12th U. S. pres.; Dale Carnegie, popular author.

Assistance Shows Slight Increase Here

Although public assistance rolls in Pennsylvania as a whole continued to drop during the first half of November, the number of persons on Monroe County rolls showed a slight increase for the same time period.

There were 779 persons on the list for Monroe, representing 2.3 per cent of the total population—an increase of about .2 of one percent over the same period one month ago.

Of these 779 persons the following divisions were shown to be receiving payment: general assistance—64; old-age assistance—321; aid to dependent children—307; aid to the disabled—42; blind pensions (payment for October)—45.

On the State level, public assistance rolls showed a decline of only 601 persons during the first half of November. According to State officials this reflects the beginning of the "seasonal turning point" in unemployment.

Public assistance rolls, they point out, are generally on the increase during the winter.

Rev. Adams Will Attend Conferences

Russell R. Adams, pastor of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist church, left here this morning for Reading, Pa. where he will attend a three-day Ministerial Council and Fellowship at the new state headquarters of the East Pennsylvania Conference of Adventists.

The local pastor will join all other ministers, interns, Bible instructors and other conference employees in the special meeting called by the president of the state religious organization, T. E. Unruh.

The parley, scheduled to begin Monday morning at 10:00 a.m. and last until Wednesday afternoon, is an annual meeting designed to study church problems, present reports, and make and announce plans for the coming year.

Pastor Adams will also attend a special Evangelistic School to run at the same time as the Council conducted by E. F. Koch, evangelist for the denomination from Washington, D. C. assisted by Mary Walsh, Bible instructor. Other guest speakers at the session include Dan A. Ochs, president of the Columbia Union Conference of Adventists, Washington, D. C.; Dr. Leonard Rasmey, newly-elected medical secretary of the conference; and E. A. Robertson, director of education for the Columbia Union Conference.

The local pastor is expected to participate in the council program. Other features of the three-day meeting will be round-table discussions, panel reports and devotional periods. Meetings will be conducted in the auditorium of the new Reading Adventist Junior Academy.

After the last session Wednesday Pastor Adams is expected to return to Stroudsburg in time to spend Thanksgiving with his family.

Many Purchase Defense Bonds

Purchase of United States Defense Bonds in Monroe county amounted to $121,780 during October. It was announced yesterday by E. H. Wyckoff, chairman of the Defense Bonds Advisory Committee for Monroe.

The total purchases were divided into the following totals: Series E and H—$26,268; Series E, H, J and K—$36,876; Series E, F and G—$58,636.

Total defense bond purchases in the State amounted to $30,029,257 during October as opposed to $27,741,649 for September of this year.

SDA Promote Bible Reading

Plans have been announced by the minister of the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist church, Stroudsburg, that the North Second Street church will join in a simultaneous drive to increase Bible reading throughout the world. The period from Thanksgiving to Christmas has been designated for a concerted campaign to secure several million individuals who will read the Bible every day.

Extensive publicity will call attention to this Worldwide Bible reading, which was observed last year in 38 countries. President Harry Truman is honorary chairman of the sponsoring committee of nationally known laymen and has issued a full endorsement of the movement. The President has declared: "The Bible remains, after the lapse of all the centuries since it came into being, the greatest book ever written. The Bible has an ever increasing claim upon us. It is unique and an incomparable work."

In addition to the Bible reading plan, the Stroudsburg Seventh-day Adventist church is promoting a systematic plan of Bible study through a Bible correspondence course. Members have been invited to enlist their friends and neighbors in this new Bible study program.

Old Clothes Are Collected For Far East

Old clothes are being collected for shipment to Asia and Europe's shivering millions, the National Catholic Welfare Conference's War Relief Service (WRS) said yesterday.

To aid in collecting local donations, said Ed Boushell, chairman of local WRS, eight depots have been established in Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg.

"Anything that will help to cover a body for the winter is what we're looking for," said Boushell. He mentioned old clothing for children and for adult men and women, all kinds of bedding and shoes.

Money donations also will be accepted, for there are cash charges for certain phases of the freight and shipping of the goods.

The material is slated for the Far East, Near East and European refugees, but a considerable quantity will go to Korea, where, Boushell reported, some 15 million needy are living in warehouses, railroad stations, tents and shacks.

The collections depots will be at these places:

Stroudsburg: Boushell's Curiosity Shop, 112 Park Ave.; J. H. Lesoine's Moving Co., 3870 W. Main St.; John Price Grocery, 1316 N. Fifth St.; Park Market, 7-N. Sixth St.

East Stroudsburg: DeLuca's Shoe Repair, 224 N. Courtland St.; Sun Printery, 62 N. Courtland St.; basement of St. Matthew's Church, 201 Broadhead Ave.

If any residents have clothing to give, but are unable to get it to a depot, they may have the contribution picked up by telephoning 2374-J, if in Stroudsburg; or if in East Stroudsburg, 3837.

Hawley Couple Found Dead

St. Petersburg, Fla. (AP)—An elderly Pennsylvania couple was found dead in their apartment here Saturday, overcome by gas.

Coroner Joe E. Carpenter listed as accidental the death of Mr. and Mrs. Max H. Beyer, Hawley, Pa. Beyer was 73; his wife 65.

The bodies were found when another tenant in the same apartment house reported the odor of gas. Carpenter said apparently one burner of a three-burner stove had been turned on for heat and the couple didn't realize when the flame went out.

Beyer was sitting in a chair with a book entitled "May God Forgive Us." His wife had been reading "Look Younger, Live Longer."

Regular winter residents of St. Petersburg for several years, they had come here for the season only a week ago.

Funeral services and burial will be in Hawley.

If the U. S. plan to build an atomic submarine is successful, no air will be needed for the engines.
